SAFETY STEPS • If a reading is very high More on page 2

If you have chest pain, severe back pain, trouble breathing, weakness or numbness, trouble speaking, confusion, vision changes, a seizure or a sudden severe headache:

Call 911 or go to the nearest emergency services.

Do not stop to recheck your blood pressure. Do not drive yourself. Do not wait to see if it goes away.

180/120 or higher and you feel fine? Stay calm. Sit quietly for 5 minutes and check again correctly. If it is still that high, call your healthcare provider today.

Pregnant or recently had a baby? 160/110 or higher, or any warning sign: call your provider or 911 now.

Before you check

- 30 minutes before: no strenuous exercise, smoking or caffeine.
- Just before: empty your bladder.
- Sit quietly for at least 5 minutes before you check.
- Sit with your back supported, feet flat on the floor, legs uncrossed, and your arm resting at heart level.
- Cuff on the bare mid-upper arm, never over a sleeve.
- No talking, phone or TV during the reading.
- Take two readings, one minute apart, and write them down.
- Morning: before medicines, food and coffee. Evening: before dinner or bedtime.

Your own record

WINS has no blood pressure log. This chart is for your own record. Write down every reading, including high and low ones, and share them with your doctor. Bring your record, and your monitor, to your next visit.

Do not change your medicines because of one reading unless your provider has given you a written plan.

Pregnant or recently had a baby?

160 over 110 or higher is severe and needs urgent care right away. Call your provider or 911 right away for a severe headache, vision changes, upper belly pain, trouble breathing, chest pain or sudden swelling of the face or hands. Tell any provider or emergency team you see that you recently had a baby.

Safety steps

Warning signs: chest pain, severe back pain, trouble breathing, weakness or numbness, trouble speaking, confusion, vision changes, a seizure or a sudden severe headache.

Your situation	What to do
180/120 or higher with any warning sign	Call 911 or go to the nearest emergency services.
180/120 or higher, no warning signs, after a repeat check	Call your healthcare provider today
Pregnant or recently delivered, 160/110 or higher, or any warning sign	Call your provider or 911 now
High but below 180/120	Keep your log and share it with your provider soon

- Do not stop to recheck your blood pressure. Do not drive yourself. Do not wait to see if it goes away.
- Do not take extra doses of your medicine or someone else's medicine to bring the number down quickly. Lowering blood pressure too fast can be dangerous.
