Blood Pressure Tracking Chart

Track your numbers. Share your pattern.

How to use it

- When your provider asks for a week of readings: two readings, one minute apart, morning and evening, for 7 days (Modules 14, 35).
- Morning: before medicines, food and coffee. Evening: before dinner or bedtime.
- Write down every reading, including high and low ones.
- Note anything that may matter: missed medicine, pain, poor sleep, stress, a cold medicine.
- Bring or share the chart with your provider. Do not change your medicines because of one reading unless your provider has given you a written plan.

For my provider's review: _____

If any reading is very high: warning signs → call 911 now; 180/120 or higher without warning signs → follow Module 15.
